The COVID-19 pandemic has changed and challenged everyone’s life. Missouri NEA and NEA, as well as the more than 30,000 members across the state, have rallied to support students and the education employees who deliver public education services. Listed below are examples of the work your association has collectively accomplished. You can count on MNEA for ongoing communication and resources as we collectively work through this crisis. Email your questions or requests to coronavirus@mnea.org.

MNEA members supporting students

- Transitioned practically overnight to offer remote instruction and student support—many MNEA locals developed teaching groups and shared resources.
- Organized food and supply drives and donations for students.
- They partnered with school boards and administrators to develop crisis plans and support families.
- Continued their bargaining process to secure salary, benefits, and safe working conditions for members.
- Donated funds and volunteered at local food banks and community centers to support students and families.
- Increased communication with members to reach out for state and national NEA resources and information.

Missouri NEA action

- Developed leadership and total-membership communications plan to connect regularly with all members.
- Provided ongoing resources on MNEA’s dedicated website page (www.mnea.org/coronavirus) as well as social media platforms.
- MNEA and NEA worked to provide a wide variety of webinars on critical topics that relate to public education during the COVID-19 pandemic (legal, legislative, instructional, trauma-informed teaching)
- More than 40 full-time staff worked across the state to provide member services, including legal protection, bargaining assistance, career resources, and information based on specific member needs.
- Advocated for students, teachers and school personnel to receive full public school funding during extended closures.
- Worked to minimize disruption for all staff by continuing pay and benefits.
- Worked to ensure that all of Missouri’s colleges and universities continue to receive pay and benefits.
- Worked with state officials to ensure student-teacher requirements allow student teachers to complete their programs.

NEA action

- Fought successfully for passage of The Families First Coronavirus Response Act, the CARES Act, and the HEROES Act to secure free COVID-19 testing, paid emergency sick leave, food and medical security for families, and uninterrupted funding and investment in public schools.
- Provided emergency food assistance to children and families, grants to educators, and support for personal protective equipment for teachers and support personnel.
- Fought for equity and access for all students while remote learning, including social-emotional resources.
